A Letter to Dreamland

Hee there little sister, what's going on?

It's been ages, way too long...

A lot has happened, months went by, some times a laugh,
some times a cry.

I wanted to write sooner, words were hard to find,

didn't know how to tell you, what's been on my mind.

I'll ask father for your address and tell the mailman to get there fast.

Day grows shorter, making way for the night,

Moon comes up, look, how bright it shines.

I'll go to bed early, as soon as I can, there in Dreamland...

I will see you again.

Oh, I try my best, to do as you asked, but it's hard to see daddy so sad. So I've been good, kind and bold and I always listen to what I am told.

Mama like you, she tries to be strong, fighting tears where they belong.

Oh it's unfair, life moves on. In a world without end, everything's wrong!

Sky turns grey, it slowly gets cold.

Birds leave for summer, leaves start to fall.

We know there's magic, it isn't hard to find, there in Dreamland...

First snow will fall Tonight!

Oh, I miss you little sister, I miss you smile.

I miss our adventures, these countless times.

Oh, I miss us playing, all the fun that we had.

Even our fights, well... they weren't so bad...

So may you look like a princess in your favorite pink dress.

May snow angels be your dearest new friends.

May you always be happy, never be blue, and forever remember the ones that love you!

Well, that's it for now, I'll write again soon.

And I hope there in Dreamland...

It's Christmas Time too!
